March 2015 - Grand Chef de Gare Leon Hill - L'Editeur Grant Willis

The Grand Chef Sez

Voyagers, February is flying by and the "Ides of March" are upon us. We have all heard the saying "Beware the Ides of March"! History tells us that March 15th marks a very important anniversary, the birth of the American Legion. I would like to take this opportunity to wish the American Legion Family a Happy 96th Birthday. March 15th is the designated Birthday of the American Legion. Membership is progressing and we need to push for the Grande to reach 100% this year.

Two of our Voitures have reached 100% or more, Voiture 447 and Voiture 1541! Thank you! It takes a lot of work by many people to reach our Goals. The Nationale Membership theme this year is "Make a Difference, Renew, Recruit, & Reinstate". Let's all try to make Grant Willis, Sous Membership Directeur Nationale, Region 1 look good! Grant sent out a letter to the Chef de Gares asking us to work a little harder to recruit new members. He also included a letter from Donald Reed, Directeur of Membership Nationale. Both letters state that if our organization is going to progress we need to make changes in the way we do things. In the past the old way made sense and it worked, but today it may not work anymore and we need to change. If we want younger veterans in our organization we need to change the way we approach them.

I would appreciate it if you would contact the remaining renewals and work on recruitment. Remember to direct perspective members to www.fortyandeight.org website to learn about our programs.

Voiture 1541 is hosting the Nite at the Races, March 7th at the ST Charles American Legion Post 312, 2500 Raymond Dr., ST Charles, MO 63301. Cost is $10 per person. Happy Hour 6:00 pm – 7:00 pm. Races start at 7:00. For information or tickets, please call me at 314-406-2260. It's a great time!

I'm asking all Voiture Locales to participate in our Grande Fund raiser project this year. This year we are holding a Model Car Show and Races at the Spring Grande Cheminot and Wreck, March 27 thru 29, 2015 at the Truman Hotel in Jefferson City, Missouri. Hope to see you at this event. If you still need a car, or have questions or concerns, please call me at 314-406-2260 or email me at lhil2@aol.com.

Happy ST Patrick's Day! Whatever your plans are, Looking for 4 Leaf Clovers, eating Corned Beef and Cabbage, Chasing the Leprechauns or looking for that Pot of gold, be Safe and have Fun. Remember to wear Green or someone might pinch you! God Bless our Troops and the United States of America.

Yours in Service,

Leon Hill
Grand Chef de Gare du Missouri

70 Years Later, Remembering Those Who Served At Iwo Jima Paulina Firozi, Washington Post, Feb 20

Ruth Ann Kepler didn't know the details of her father's military service until a couple of years after his death in 1971.

He was in the Navy, that much she knew. But when Kepler or her three sisters would ask him about his service, Robert William -Strecker kept his answers short.

"He'd say, 'Oh yeah, I was in the Navy. It was a good time,' and left it at that," Kepler said.

She would learn later that her father served with the Navy's Pacific Fleet from 1942 to 1946. That he was stationed on a submarine chaser during World War II. And that he served at the Battle of Iwo Jima, which began 70 years ago Thursday.

Kepler was among nearly 30 people who gathered at the National World War II Memorial on the anniversary to commemorate the battle in which more than 6,800 American service members were killed. It would come to be known as the deadliest battle in Marine Corps history.

A large wreath arranged with red, white and blue flowers was placed at the base of the memorial's Pacific Arch. A bugler from the U.S. Marine Band sounded taps as some in attendance stood in salute.

Josiah Bunting III, chairman of the Friends of the National World War II Memorial, spoke briefly at the ceremony, telling the gathering that they must continue to honor those who served.

"This is a solemn occasion, but it's also a joyous occasion," Bunting said. "It's a great and remarkable feat to which succeeding generations must be introduced so we never ever forget their sacrifice."

Kepler traveled from Oxford, Pa., to attend the ceremony. She said that until now, her father had never been specifically honored for his service at Iwo Jima. She had previously been in touch with Holly Rotondi, executive director of Friends of the National World War II Memorial, who invited her to come for Thursday's event on the Mall.

Only a couple of years after Strecker's death, Kepler's mother died. Kepler said her mother had left her with a rosary, a book and a diary that her father wrote while at war. But she said she never had the opportunity to hear about his experiences.

"Usually when you become an adult and you're in your 20s, that's when you start asking those questions," she said. "Our parents were gone; there was nobody to ask."

She began to research his history and service online and in naval archives. As she learned more, she found records that matched what he had written.

"He talks about all the different places the ship went," she said. "He's not very specific about any battles or people dying. He's very careful about that."

Since learning about her father's service, Kepler has done her part to honor veterans, participating in programs such as Wreaths Across America. She made copies of the diary to give her sisters and will be donating the original to the Naval Heritage Center in Washington.

On Thursday, Kepler held up a photo of her father and then placed it under the wreath.

"He served bravely and proudly in the U.S. Navy during World War II," she told those gathered. "It's my pleasure to be able to be here today to give him the recognition and honor he deserves."

Kepler's oldest sister, Marilyn Zeitfuss of Woodbridge, Va., also attended the commemoration.

"He's been gone for so long and we never had the opportunity to honor him in this way," Zeitfuss said. "I'm speechless. It's just a very good feeling."

As you can see we are behind last year's totals by 42 members, which is still significant. We have only four Voiture who is ahead of last year's totals and they are Voiture's 333, 460, 1402 and 1541 with 106.94%. We need to step up the pace in membership and with the Spring Wreck coming up at the end of this month, this would be a good time to recruit new members into our organization.

As a Grand we need to be at 100% by the Spring Wreck. We presently have five Locales that need to step up the pace. In percentage order they are Voiture 448 at 64.55%, 1402 at 66.67%, 130 at 68.75%, 1403 at 74.07%, and 3 at 74.14%.

Let's get R Done and Make a Difference.
